Drinking Water Supplies at Self-Supplied Schools – How MoE can help you to keep water safe and comply with regulations

Robert Van Bentum & Dylan Frost

We use Water Services team will provide details of recent MoE initiatives to help schools comply with new drinking water regulations. This will include how to draft your Water Safety Plan and set-up an Operation and Maintenance Schedule. We will also demonstrate new remote monitoring and data capture application for self-supplied schools to bring monitoring data into one place and reduce the administrative burden.

Robert van Bentum - Chief Water Services Advisor

Robert is a water services engineer with more than 40 years' experience of designing and supporting communities to achieve safe and robust water and wastewater services. Robert heads up the Water Services Team in the Ministry aimed at helping schools deliver safe and reliable water services. Robert is helping develop standard approaches and designs for implementing water services which comply with regulations but reduce capital and on-going operational costs.

Dylan Frost – Water Services Administrator

Dylan has an ecology background and supports Robert in the water services team. Dylan assists schools to maintain compliance and manage risks associated with their drinking water supplies.

Standing Strong in the face of system change

Pat Newman

We will explore beliefs, pedagogies, the role of politics in education, handling the conflict that often occurs between these and political and Ministry directions, tools you can use to help, ending up with a simple way of dealing with media, as a result of a crisis in your school.

**For this workshop, you must bring pen & paper

Pat Newman is an elected member of the NZ Teachers Council Primary Principals Representative having served over 12 years on this and previous bodies representing Primary Principals, President of Tai Tokerau Principals' Association since 2007, and a member of Te Akatea. Pat spent from 1995 to 2007 on the National Executive of the New Zealand Principals Federation, including being the National President in 2005 and 2006. Born in Timaru, Pat was a former pupil at St Josephs and Marist Brothers and St Patricks. Pat has been principal at Hora Hora School since 1999 and has over 40+ years as a school principal in seven different schools, U1 to U5 from Te Tai Tokerau to the Waikato, King Country, Central Otago, Marlborough and once again Te Tai Tokerau. 51 years ago, he entered the profession as a student teacher at Waikato University. 1981 was his first year of principalship. He has been awarded the MNZM by the Queen, a Hon Fellow of the NZEI, and an ANZPF by the NZPF, all basically for services to education. He is often commenting on educational matters, particularly political decisions to do with education locally regionally and nationally and appears to relish pointing out reality versus political expediency and common sense. If "googled", his name pops up quite a few times!

Making great decisions about your own learning as a leader - explore the NEW Principal Development Map

Tim White & Georgina Stokes

This workshop introduces the Principal Development Map, which has been developed with the principal sector. The purpose of this tool is to support those on the Principal Pathway to locate PLD, support and opportunities to broaden their leadership experience. Be one of the first to find out about the Principal Development Map before its release!

**For this workshop, you must bring your laptop or device

Tim has been a Primary school Principal, Small and Rural School Leadership Advisor and Leadership consultant. Most recently Tim was Principal at Frimley School in Hastings but since February 2023, Tim has been the Chief Advisor | Leadership Advisory Service, within the Ministry of Education. Tim also works with the Education Workforce and Leadership team on projects which support the further development of the Principal Pathway.

Georgina (Ngāi Tahu, Ngāi Te Ruahikihiki) is a designer, researcher and past University Lecturer currently working as a Principal Advisor, Service Design within the Ministry of Education's Te Pou Ohumahi Mātauranga team. This role focuses on designing and implementing resilient, responsive strategic initiatives to support the Education Workforce.

Cyber Security – How N4L connects, protects, and supports your school

Graham Flanagan

Join this session to learn about:

- Te Mana Tūhono - the managed network and cyber security support programme for schools
- The growing cyber security risks, and how schools can manage these with support from N4L and others
- The future direction of the managed network and digital services for schools.

Network for Learning (N4L) is a Crown-owned technology company that provides faster, safer internet for Aotearoa New Zealand's schools and kura. Graham Flanagan is the Regional Director for N4L covering the Central and Northern regions. Graham has a background in education management, and specifically Edtech, working with schools, kura, and tertiary education organisations.

R&R Kids

Kath Johnson

In 2013 we took our first combined Rural & Remote Kids Class to Wellington on camp. We head off to the Capital every two years with our combined group of Year 7&8 tamariki and are currently planning our 7th camp. If you enjoy thinking outside the box and want to hear how some of the Motu's most remote schools have worked together to provide unique opportunities for ākonga then this is the workshop for you...

Kia ora koutou. Ko Kath Johnson tāku ingoa. I am tumuaki of Te Kura o Rakiura/ Halfmoon Bay School on Rakiura/ Stewart Island. I have been the teaching principal of NZ's southern-most school for the past 16 years and love my job!
